One Saturday morning, Anna and her mom decided to go shopping. They made a list of items they needed, like fruits, vegetables, bread, and milk. Anna was excited because she loved picking out fresh apples and bananas. When they arrived at the supermarket, it was busy with people.

Anna and her mom started in the fruit section. They looked at the colourful apples, oranges, and grapes. Anna picked a shiny red apple and said, "I want this one!" Then they moved to the vegetable aisle. They chose bright green broccoli and crunchy carrots. Anna remembered that her mom liked to make soup with these vegetables.

Next, they went to the bakery section. The smell of fresh bread was amazing! Anna's mom bought a loaf of whole wheat bread. "This is healthy for sandwiches," she said. After that, they visited the dairy section to get milk and yoghurt. Anna liked yoghurt with fruit in it.

Finally, they went to the checkout counter. Anna paid with her mom's money, and they packed their groceries into bags.

Friends can make us happy, help us learn new things, and support us when we need it.

But how do we make friends? Here are some tips!

First, be friendly and smile. When you meet someone new, a smile can make a big difference. It shows that you are happy to see them.

Next, find common interests. Talk about things you like, such as sports, music, or books.

For example, if you both like football, you can ask, "Do you play football?" This can help you create a good connection.

Another way to make friends is to be a good listener. When someone talks to you, pay attention and show that you care about what they say. This makes the other person feel important.

Joining clubs or groups at school is also a great way to meet new friends. Whether it's a sports team, art club, or language class, being part of a group helps you connect with others who have similar interests.

Finally, don't be afraid to invite someone to play a game, go for ice cream, or study together. This shows that you want to spend time with them and build a friendship.

With these tips, you'll be able to make new friends and enjoy fun times together.

A. When you meet someone new, you should:

- 1) say hello
- 2) smile
- 3) shake hands

B. To make friends, you should:

- 1) find common interests
- 2) talk only about books
- 3) play football together

C. When someone speaks, you should:

- 1) agree with them
- 2) show that you like them
- 3) show that you are attentive

D. Clubs help to find new friends with:

- 1) same interests
- 2) love of sports
- 3) interest in languages

E. To make people, you should:

- 1) ask them to do things together
- 2) buy them a nice cream
- 3) study a lot

She starts delivering pints at about 3 am and continues until midday. It can be lonely driving through streets in the night but Liz doesn't mind it. When she gets home, after work, at about 1 pm, she has «breakfast», then goes shopping or watches TV. She doesn't meet with friends a lot, because when she's free, most of her friends are at work. Liz has to be in bed by 10 o'clock.

So, why does she do it? The answer is simple: Liz loves working outdoors. She sees such wonderful things as the sun rising every day.

2. Liz delivers milk until twelve o'clock.

Food Fright

Doctors in Britain are worried because British teenagers eat a lot of crisps, sweets and fat food. Most teenagers don't have enough fruit or vegetables and more than one million British schoolchildren are overweight.

Some teenagers say that they don't have time to eat good food, but kids who have a poor diet often have health problems when they are older. Fast food is typical of American's diet, it was born there. American fast food is now part of life all over the world. McDonald's, Pizza Hut, Burger King have restaurants in many countries on all the continents.

The only good thing about fast food is its low price. In fact, a steady diet of burgers, fries and cola doesn't fill your body with vitamins and minerals you need to stay healthy. Fast food is rich in calories but it doesn't have many important nutrients (nutательные вещества).

Now doctors give young people books and games about food diet. Having healthy, well-balanced diet can help you feel better and live longer.

Francesco came to hospital with his parents.

Что произошло в больнице?

Francesco said goodbye to his mother and father, and then they left. Bill, one of the other boys in his room, said, pointing to a boy on a bed, "That's Rubin. He had an operation this morning, and so he's sleeping a lot today." "Have you ever had an operation?" he asked Francesco. "I will have my tonsils out (удалят гланды) tomorrow," said Francesco. Bill had his appendix taken out.

When Rubin woke up, the three boys talked for a while. Bill remembered something and pushed his button to call the nurse.

"Have you forgotten my tablet?" asked Bill when Mrs Bloom came to the doorway.

"The doctor said you shouldn't have one tonight," she answered. "Does your stomach hurt?"

"No," said Bill.

In a few minutes, Bill was asleep. Francesco missed his parents. But it was good to know that all the hospital workers were there to help his doctor help him. He was glad that Rubin and Bill were sharing his room with him.

"And tomorrow I'll meet some more new friends," he thought, and then he fell asleep.

Most people today cannot imagine life without the Internet. I believe it is one of the most important innovations. Thanks to the worldwide web, our lives are easier and more exciting today.

First of all, the Internet helps us find information easily. For example, we can read the news and find answers to questions 24 hours a day.

In addition, we can use the Internet for entertainment. We can send emails to friends and shop online. We can even listen to the latest music without leaving our homes.

However, some people would argue that it has a negative effect on society. If we don't have to leave our houses to shop, to learn, or to work, what will happen to life as we know it?

In my opinion, the Internet has more advantages than disadvantages. Our lives are better with it and it is here to stay.

Leonardo da Vinci – a great artist and scientist (by Adam Wilson)

The person I admire the most is Leonardo da Vinci. He was born on 15th April 1452 in the town of Vinci, Italy. His full name was Leonardo di ser Piero da Vinci, which means Leonardo, son of Piero from Vinci. He was not only one of the greatest painters of all time, but he was also an architect, sculptor, engineer, inventor, mathematician and musician.

Leonardo da Vinci was a very intelligent and imaginative man. He created many different designs. Some of them were for a bicycle, a helicopter, a parachute and even an aeroplane! He also liked to study everything in nature. You can find some of his notebooks in museums today. In them you can see drawings of plants and animals as well as detailed sketches of the human body!

Leonardo da Vinci paid a lot of attention to detail and his paintings are very realistic. The Mona Lisa, for example, is one of his best known works of art. It is a painting of a woman whose face often makes people wonder if she is smiling or not.

I admire Leonardo da Vinci for his amazing works of art and his great inventions. His artwork will last forever and people around the world admire it even today.

1. Read the Story and do the Tasks:

When Polly left school, she had no idea what she wanted to do. A friend of hers, who was a year older and whose name was Josephine, was at art college, and she persuaded Polly to join her there.

Polly's father worked in a factory, and her mother worked in a shop. They were saving their money to buy their own house and they had hoped that Polly would start earning money too as soon as she left school, so when she told them that she wanted to go to art college, she expected them to have objections. But in fact they had none.

"You'll have to find some kind of job to pay for your college", Polly's mother warned her. "Your father and I will be very happy to keep you at home but we have no money for your college course and none for paints and all the other things you'll need."

"Thank you very much," Polly answered. "I'm really very grateful to you both. And there's no problem about getting a job. The head of the college has offered me one in their library."

After a few months, Polly's parents really felt very proud that their daughter was going to college, especially when she brought home some of the things she had painted, for which she had received high praise from her teachers. Polly sometimes went to museums to see paintings by famous artists and one day she said to her parents, "Why don't you come to a museum with me one day? Then I can tell you all about the paintings by famous artists, and you can see the kinds of things I'm trying to do myself."

Polly's mother was free on Thursday afternoons and on Saturdays but her father sometimes had to work on those days. They waited until one Saturday when he didn't have to work and they all went off to the museum that Polly had chosen.

She showed her parents some famous paintings and then they came to one they recognized.

"This," Polly said, pointing to it, "is Van Gogh's Sunflowers."

"What cheek!" Polly's father answered. "He's copied the picture we've had in our hall for the last ten years!"

4. How can people get back to real-life communication?
5. What is a law against mobiles?

A. Young people often worry about the style and functions of mobile phones. However, today companies present more models for people who are over 50 or 60 years old. They need a mobile phone with large buttons, so that they can dial numbers without glasses. The menu is also simple. It really doesn't matter if the phone has a camera or the Internet. For them, less is more.

B. Today, when friends meet in a cafe, they put their mobile phones in the middle of the table. They aren't allowed to touch them at all. If someone does it and answers the phone, they have to pay for everybody. Sounds fun, right? The idea is to make people concentrate on a real conversation with each other instead of using their mobiles all the time.

C. Visitors of theatres and cinemas often complain that mobile phones ring during performances. The city government of New York passed a new act. It is now forbidden to use mobile phones in places, like theaters, libraries, museums, galleries, and cinemas. Those who don't switch off their mobiles will have to pay $50.

D. With mobile phones we can contact anyone, anywhere, any time. Scientists say that some people are so used to mobiles that they can't go to the kitchen without them. They say it may be a thing similar to drugs.

E. In 2010, a young girl from China made a song using only her mobile phone. She wrote it without any guitars, pianos, drums. She used different functions of her mobile. It took her several days to record the song. Later she made a video of it and put the video on the Internet, where over a million people watched it. She sent the song to the Apple company and suggested using it in their advertisements.

F. Today's mobile phones can already send e-mails, surf the Internet, and keep you in touch with friends. Tomorrow's phones are like helpful secretaries. I. Read the Story and State if the Statements are true, false or not stated:

The will

One day young William was called to a lawyer's office. The lawyer announced that William's uncle had left him a thousand dollars. He also added that William was required to give the lawyer a report of how he used the money as soon as he spent it. That was his uncle's last wish.

William promised to follow his uncle's wish and went straight to his club. He looked for Bryson, a calm wise man of about forty, who was sitting in a corner reading a book. When William told him about the contents of the will, Bryson did not seem at all surprised. He only remarked that the uncle was worth about half a million.

William told Bryson that his uncle had left a lot of money to charity while his servants had received only ten dollars each. There was one more person mentioned in the will, Miss Hayden, a distant relative who lived in the uncle's house. She was a quiet, musical girl and the dearest woman in the world to William. William had been in love with her for two years but he had never told her about his feelings.

William had no idea how to spend a thousand dollars and he hated making the report. He had a feeling that his uncle was making fun of him.

In the street William saw a blind man selling pencils. William went up to him and asked him what he would do with the money. The blind man shrugged his shoulders and said that he had never seen such a huge amount of money and therefore had never had the problem of spending such a sum. William bought all his pencils and gave him ten dollars above the price. William was walking down the empty street when he had an idea.

He got into a cab and went to his uncle's house where Miss Hayden lived. He found her, sad and beautiful, writing letters in the library. William knew that like the servants she had received nothing from his uncle but ten dollars. So he said that there was an addition to his uncle's will that allowed her to have a thousand dollars and he gave her the money there and then. Miss Hayden turned white, took the banknotes and put them in the drawer of the writing desk. Then she quietly thanked William and gave him a shy smile.

In excitement William went back to the lawyer's office, ready to hand over the report. Suddenly the lawyer took out another document which had been given to him by William's uncle and started reading. It said that in the case that William spent the money wisely, he was to receive another fifty thousand dollars. On the contrary, if he had spent it in a foolish way, the fifty thousand would go to Miss Hayden.

Smiling brightly, William destroyed the report and said he had lost a thousand dollars on the races. William realized that he was going to lose much more than that, but he felt happy about it.

Computer Addiction (зависимость)

A. Computer addiction is a relatively new term used to describe a dependency on one's computer. Computer addiction is not limited to personal computers (PCs). It covers video games and the Internet and has already been given a label by psychologists, namely Internet addiction disorder (IAD).

B. People can get addicted to a variety of things, and there is usually various ways of help to treat them. Alcohol and drugs have been known for long years. But other forms of addictive behavior, such as exercise, watching television or spending too much time on a computer, have only recently been recognized.

C. The computer addiction has also affected children. Spending hours chatting online, surfing the web or playing computer games can make a person, especially a child indifferent to realistic relationships and other parts of his/her life. A recent research study showed that some children suffer from computer rage (помешательство, страсть) when they are forbidden to play computer games. The results are sudden uncontrolled periods of anger.

D. So how exactly is computer addiction defined? When does a hobby become an addiction? As with most other dependencies, specific questions can be asked to see whether or not someone may suffer from computer addiction. These questions are first of all about how much time is spent on the PC or playing video games, sometimes comparing to how much time is spent interacting with real people.

E. As with any addiction, steps can be taken to treat computer addiction. Limiting the amount of time spent on the computer or playing video games is a simple step. If your computer is on all the time, switch it off. Guidelines for children suggest allowing no more than one hour per night on the PC or playing video games.

F. Computer addiction is said to be increasing. More and more people are spending time in cyberspace in a virtual world of their own making. If not treated, this condition can lead to reduced social skills and degradation in the addict's quality of life.
